The Past
A Legacy and Tradition

"The past is but the beginning of a beginning, and all that is and has been is but the twilight of the dawn . . ."
(H. G. Wells)

The new University of Windsor has its roots firmly planted in the traditions which nourished Assumption College when its doors were first opened by the Basilian Fathers on February 10, 1857. Affiliation with Western University, London, Ontario in 1919, changed Assumption's old curricula from a preparatory for admittance to seminaries into an integral part of the University's Faculty of Arts and Sciences. Co-education came to the campus with the arrival of Holy Names College in 1950. University status was achieved in 1953. Essex College three years later with its facilities in Memorial Science, the Annex, and the Essex College Engineering Building affiliated with the University College physically present in Dillon Hall. An Anglican Liberal Arts College, Canterbury College next joined the University in 1957. The addition of a new library and the University Centre marked the coming of age for Assumption University.

The Present

Responsibility and Obligation

"Look not mournfully into the past.
It comes not back again.
Wisely improve the present.
It is thine."

(Longfellow)

The University of Windsor Library "Teach me Goodness, Kindness and Discipline".

Expansion is the key word in this year's plan. Most of the adjacent property to the present campus has been purchased by the university. This land was acquired to make way for the fulfilment of the needs of the growing student body. A new parking lot beneath the Ambassador Bridge is still another spurt of growth. The whole university structure in general has been revamped to keep stride with the pace. How vital these new programs are in making the University of Windsor a dynamic place of learning can be seen in the problem of housing some of the faculties. The Music House on Sunset and the Fine Arts Department location are but two examples. One very important part of the university, the University Centre, has proven its worth as a focal point of student life. It is an incentive for additional well-functioning organs to be innovated. A beginning has been made by the construction of the additions to Electa Hall, Essex College, and the new Administration building. Indeed, this is just the beginning.

THE FUTURE

Promise and Confidence

"For I dipt into the future
Far as human eye could see,
Saw the Vision of the world,
And all the wonder that would be;"
(Tennyson)

Within five years the University population will have doubled itself. With this in mind the new administration has started plans for its program. In the middle of this year the ground was broken for the new administration building which will house offices of the various departments along with the faculty and facilities of graduate studies. After this has been completed, a biology building and humanities building will make their appearance. A proposed extension of Cody Hall, the Men's Residence, is not too far in the future either. To these expansion innovations will be added a place for social sciences, nursing education and an auditorium which will double as a Fine Arts building. Canterbury College and United College too will play a large part in the development project, with two structures located close to the Detroit River. For the athletically inclined, a stadium is in the offing. The future is bright and full for the University of Windsor.

Meanwhile

New Six Story Addition To Electa Hall

A bustle of activity is an adept description of the University at this time. With Cody Hall, the Men's Residence satisfactorily equipped to handle the male students, the attention has turned to the completion of the addition to Electa Hall, Women's Residence. On the other side of the campus the sound of drills, cranes and other machines lay the foundations of the Essex College addition. Mounds of earth and debris strew the once neat concrete walks and green lawns of the grounds. With the financial obligations of Assumption University escaping the means of the Basilian Fathers, it was decided for the sake of progress and improvement of facilities, that the government should take over the responsibility of the new University. This it did on July 1, 1963 and the University of Windsor came into being. Although this new organization seems to be in organized confusion, this is progress . . .

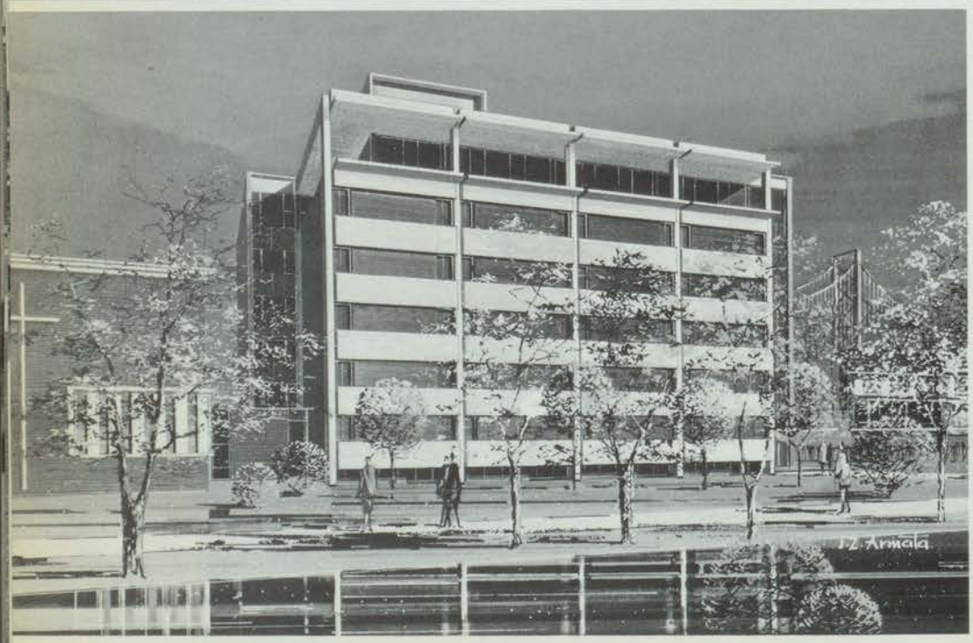

Above: Phase II addition to Essex College of Applied Science. Right: Landscape such as this greets the Windsor student more and more often in these days of change and progress.

THIS, THIS, THEN, IS WINDSOR

And so, this the University of Windsor, in its various shapes and forms, has existed on these same one hundred acres for one hundred and seven years.

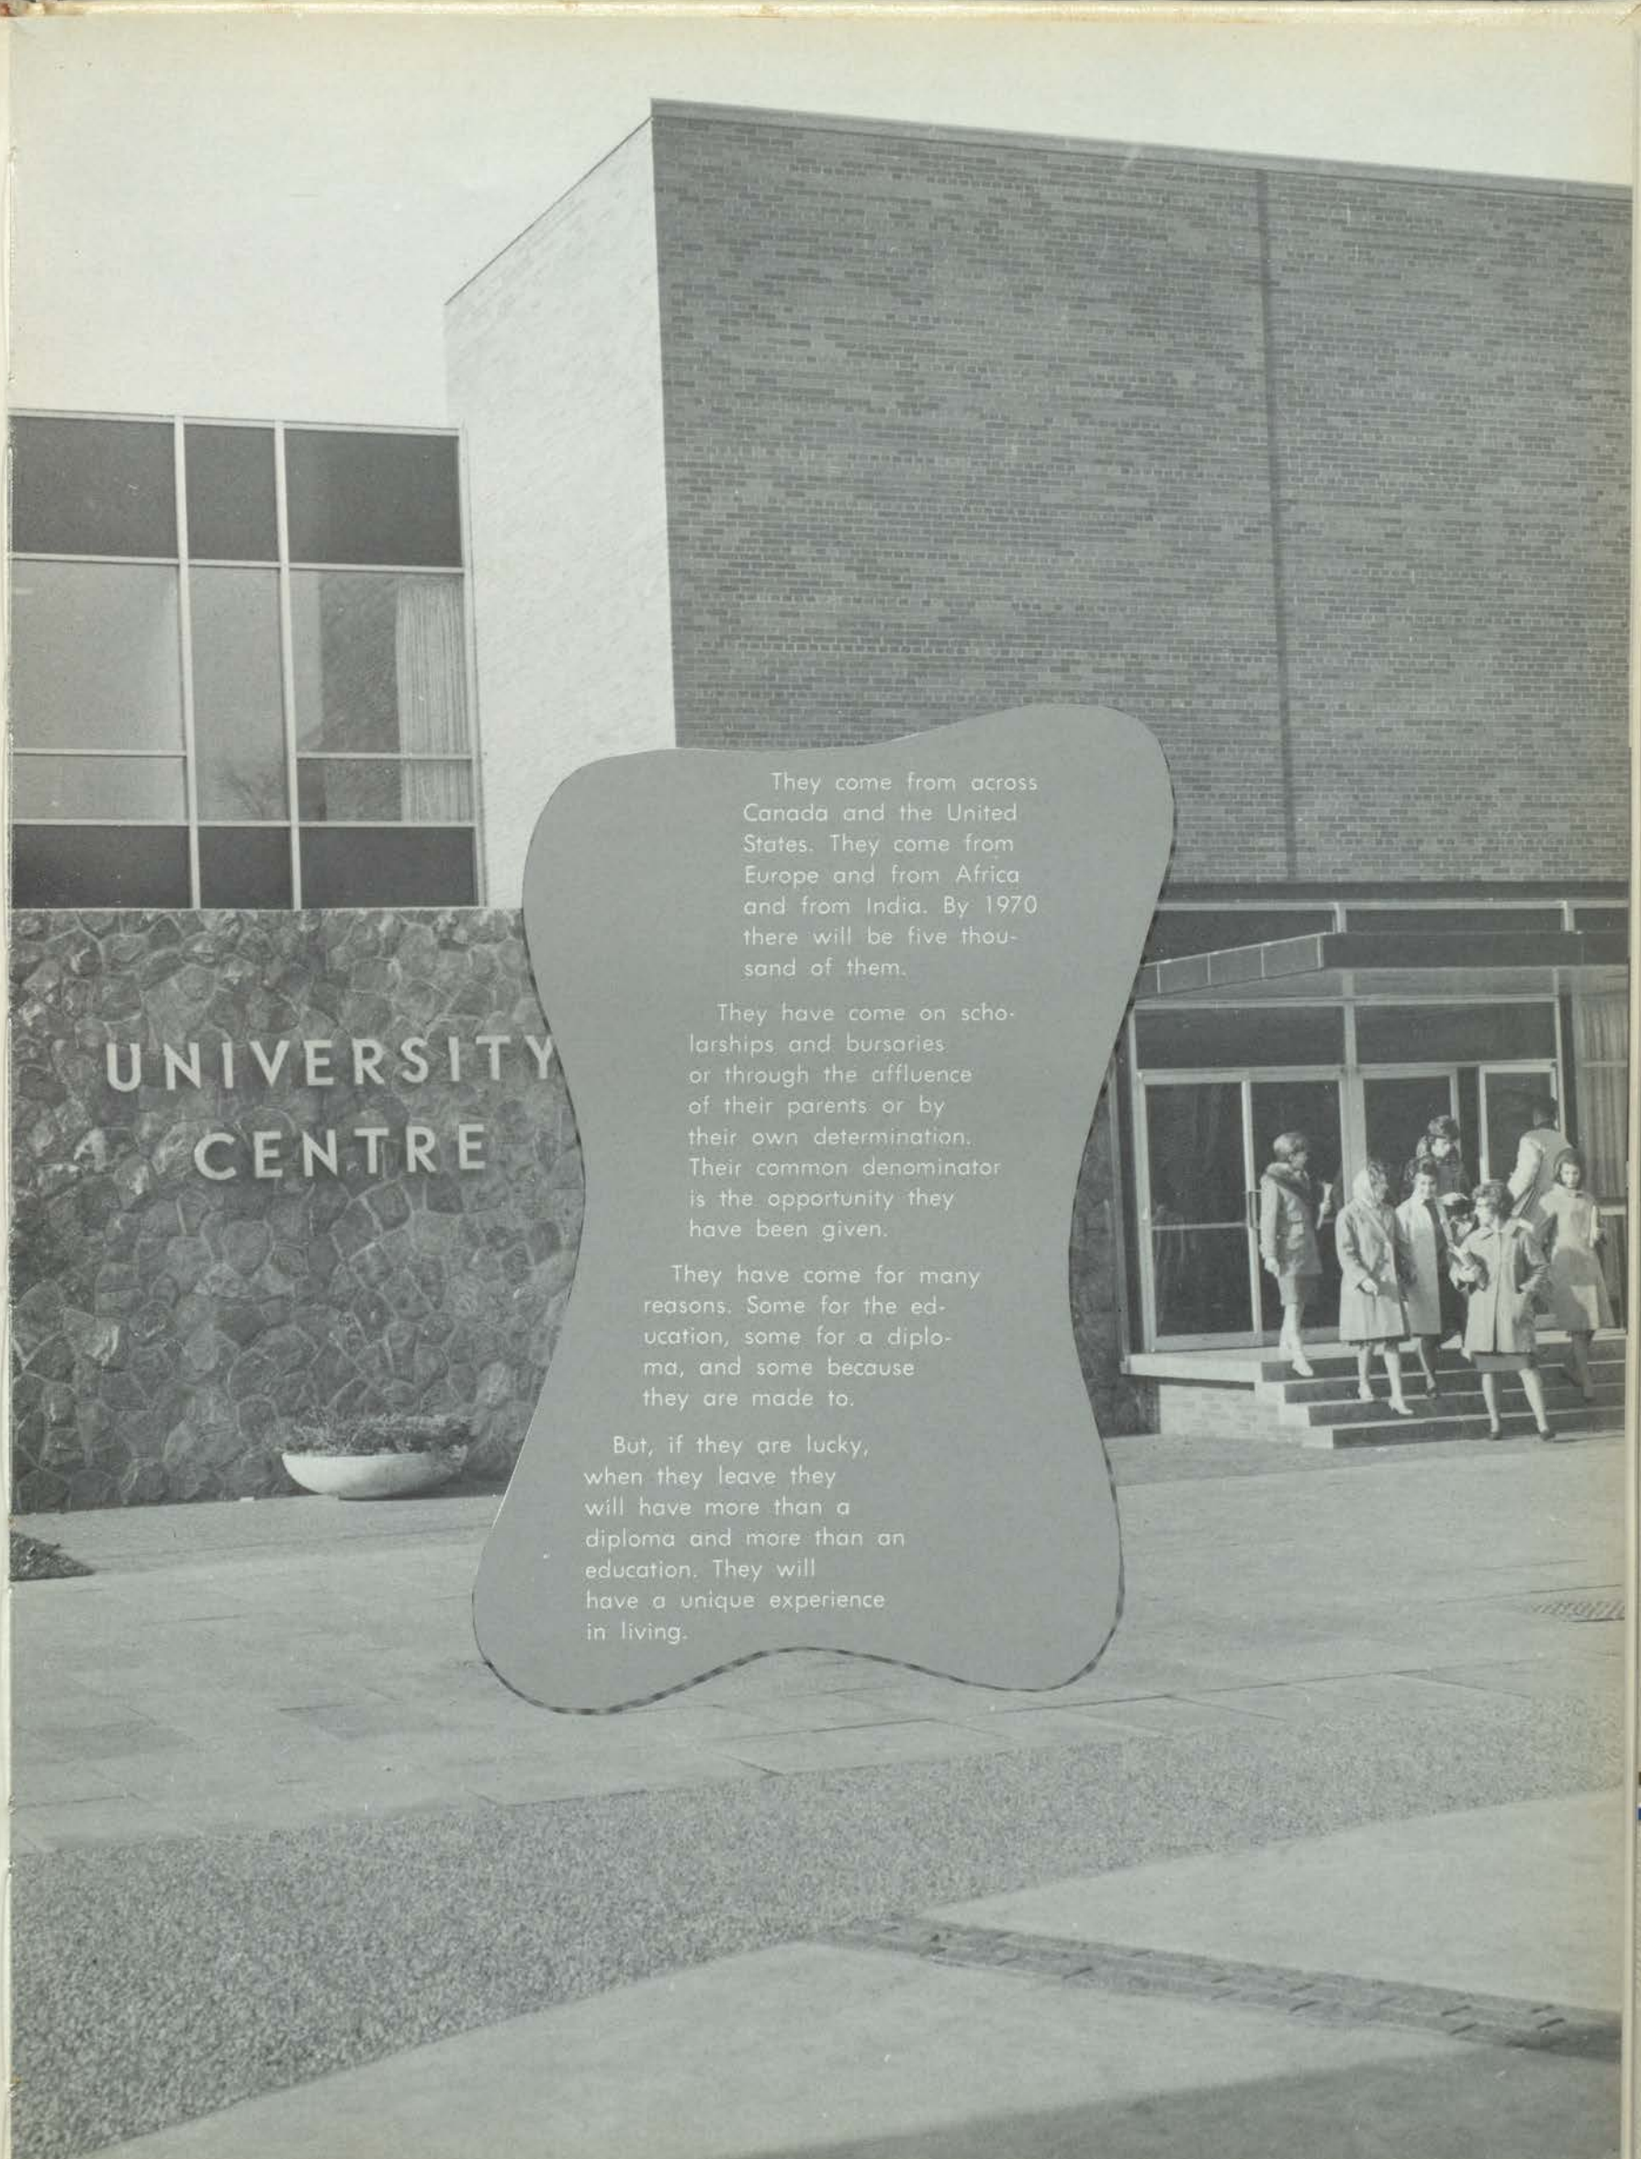

In many ways the history of the University of Windsor has paralleled the history of Canada.

For many years we have been like a potentially great younger brother who has needed the guiding hand of maturity.

We are just now beginning to reach our full promise. Cautiously, we open the door on a new age in our history of mankind. We are full of the hopes and fears, curiosity and ambition, pride and self consciousness of a boy reaching manhood.

The success of our future will depend on how well we accept the challenge of our position in the university and in society.

Top To Bottom: Original Building, South Hall; University Centre; New Women's Residence.

They come from across Canada and the United States. They come from Europe and from Africa and from India. By 1970 there will be five thousand of them.

They have come on scholarships and bursaries or through the affluence of their parents or by their own determination. Their common denominator is the opportunity they have been given.

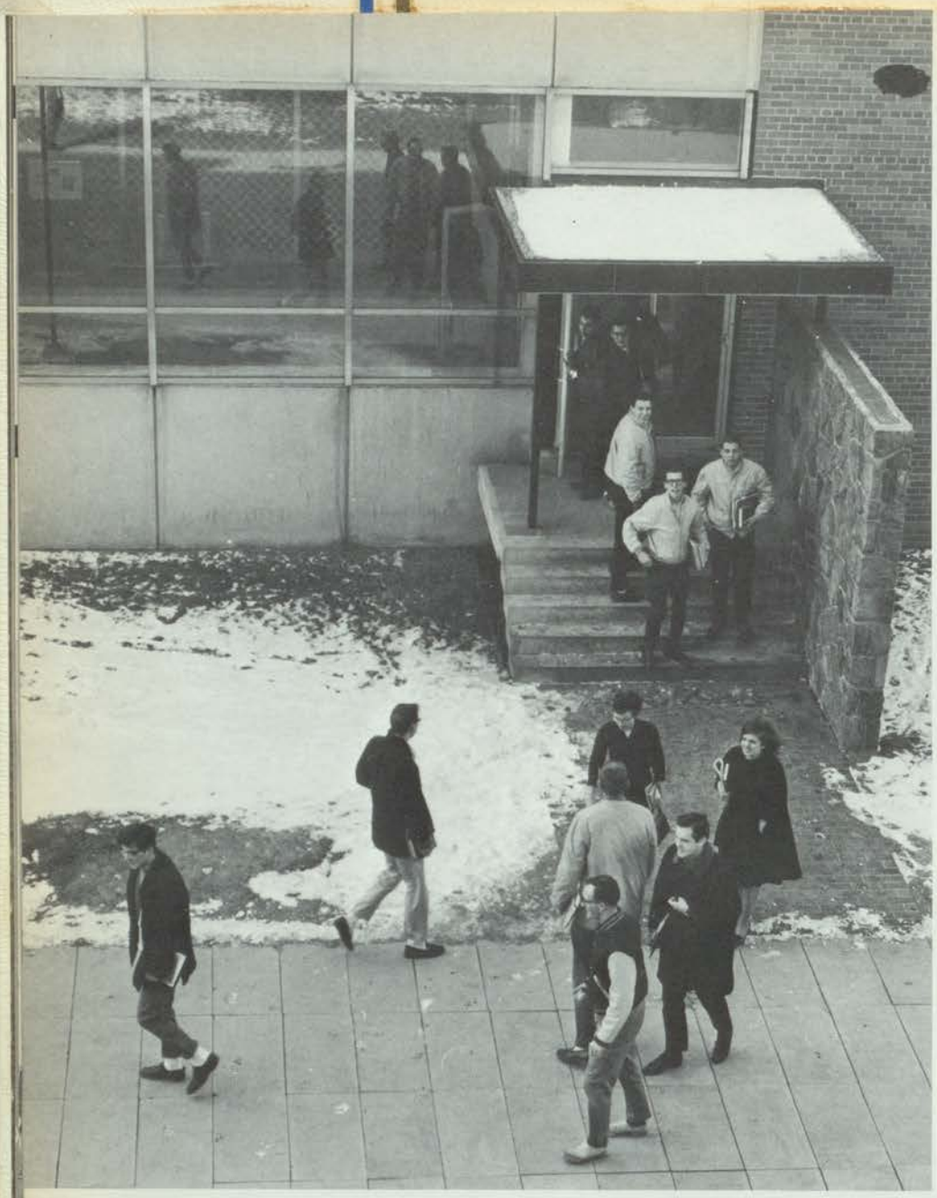

They have come for many reasons. Some for the education, some for a diploma, and some because they are made to.

But, if they are lucky, when they leave they will have more than a diploma and more than an education. They will have a unique experience in living.

WINDSOR'S ACTIVITIES

The interests of an individual do not focus solely on the academics of education. Each has his interests, his personal outlet, untapped energy for a particular talent. And so the organizations and activities of a campus are never in want of support and enthusiasm. The activity makes rigorous demands on the student, but in spite of all the pressures of classroom and an unyielding society, the restlessly creative student body emerges willing, efficient and most times, staggeringly capable.

The student yearbook is the epitome of student life on campus. It represents the aspirations and frustrations of our University years. After graduation, it will help us to recall the many happy moments we have spent here; the gaining of new ideas, the acquisition of new friends, the development of growth, the challenges presented with satisfaction. One phase of our life has been completed.

THE SCHOOL HYMN

Alma Mater, Alma Mater
Windsor University.
Praises fine all tributes thine,
Our love and loyalty.
For thy anthem rings of greatness;
Faith and hope eternally.

We proclaim thy motto Mater:
Knowledge, Goodness, Discipline;
Words of wisdom to the world
Voiced in unison,
For thy men of learning, Windsor,
Teach the ways of truth to win.

Always forward, ever onward,
Honours thine O Gold and Blue.
Glories past will be remembered
Dawning ever new.
Forging strength and guarding freedom,
Sons and daughters bold and true.

Alma Mater, Alma Mater,
Windsor University.

Happy students welcome the birth of the "University of Windsor" as it starts its first complete school year as such.

The beginning of The Beginning . . .

REGISTRATION

The University of Windsor traces its origin to the inception of Assumption College, which opened its doors on February 10, 1859. In 1938, it became co-educational and in 1953, it ended its affiliation with the University of Western Ontario and became an independent institution. In 1956, under the direction of two Boards, it adopted the title of Assumption University of Windsor, and in 1962 with the amalgamation of the two Boards, it became the University of Windsor. Thus, the University of Windsor, while new in its foundation and charter, is already old in its traditions and experience. This year, as the first full year of the University of Windsor, there was an increase in enrolment of 588 undergraduates, 5 postgraduates and 48 non - degree students. One tradition which U. of W. accepts with "a grain of salt" is that of Registration, with all its activitiy, as depicted here.

. . . The end of The Beginning.

FROSH WEEK

Frosh Week was highlighted by the usual number of festivities as the seniors initiated the freshmen into University life. Divergences, such as the big bond fire, dances and singing entertainment enabled the "frosh" to break away from the tasks and pranks the seniors had planned for them.

Higher, I can't reach.

"But your Honour, Sir . . . "

I wouldn't want to crawl through that tunnel with the Engineers pushing rotten tomatoes through that grate.

A "sweet" break with singers!

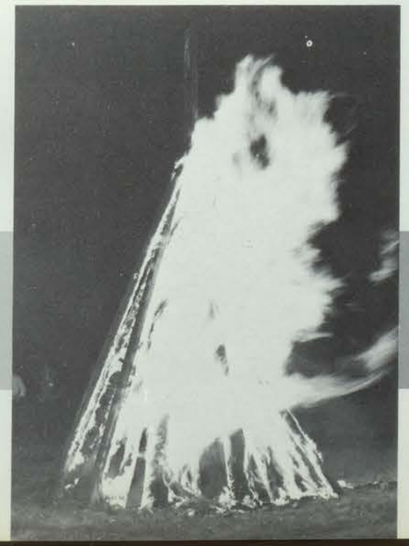

I think there's a hole in your stocking.

Groups introduce their Frosh Queen candidates at festive and noisy rally.

TREASURE VAN

The Treasure Van returned to the University of Windsor to allow us to view and purchase goods from all over the world. Its main purpose is the relief of impoverished people by helping them to sell their wares and handicrafts in the more fortunate countries of the world. Scholarships are also raised in this manner so that less fortunate students can gain an education.

BLOOD DRIVE

Another successful blood drive was held by the Red Cross at the University of Windsor on Thursday, December 5th. This is the fourth year of this event and the contributions increase every year.

BOOK FAIR

Between Nov. 19 and Nov. 22 the Book Store presented its 2nd annual Book Fair. Over 10,000 titles were displayed in both paperback and hard cover editions by some twenty publishing companies. The Book Fair was termed a great success as between 7,000 and 8,000 people, both from the general public and educational systems came to view the selection.

CANADIAN- AMERICAN SEMINAR

The Fifth annual Seminar on Canadian-American relations was held at the University of Windsor, Nov. 7, 8, and 9.

Its aim is to give the students and officials the opportunity of presenting their views on major issues which affect both Canada and the United States. This year the negro and separatist problems were presented and discussed.

In the previous years only adults submitted papers. This year, however, papers were given by students from our own university and universities from Ontario, Quebec and the United States. Following each paper there were open discussions where many interesting questions and conflicting views were put forward. This experiment proved very successful and this year's Seminar was rated by the student participants as one of the best seminars that they had ever attended.

Father Boland, C.S.B., the Organizer of the Canadian American Relations Seminar discusses its opening with Linda Durocher, Mr. D. Kigar, and Mr. Wilber Brucker.

Commerce Club

Obviously in cheerful anticipation of a weekend in Toronto, the Commerce Club is shown boarding their coach for this annual excursion. With tours of the Toronto Stock Exchange and the Canada Life Insurance Company on their agenda, the trip proved to be both educational and entertaining.

Using the Royal York Hotel as a convenient home base, the Commerce boys also toured many of the finer "night spots" of Toronto, and took advantage of the occasion to renew several old acquaintances. Most of the group was on hand to watch the Lancers defeat University of Toronto at Hart House.

The Commerce Club leaves for the National Indulgers' Convention in Toronto.

Model Parliament

This year's Model Parliament was both active and educational having three parties, the Liberals, Conservatives and New Democrats participating.

Parliament sat for three consecutive days having for each of those days a member from the Federal House as Speaker of the House. They were Hon. Marcel Lambert, MP for West Edmonton, Alberta, (P.C.), Ian G. Wahn, MP for St. Paul's Toronto, (Lib.), and Andrew Brewin, MP for Woodbine, Toronto, (N.D.P.).

The Liberal Government passed a bill of recognize and to promote the People's Republic of China's admission into the United Nation's General Assembly. This Bill, presented by Gordon Thomson, Donald Kasta, and Ken Moriarity, was the first bill to be passed in several years.

Improvised Intellectuality

Residence is the home away from home for more than five hundred men and women. Residence life is sometimes exciting, sometimes boring, sometimes maddening, but never forgotten. Residence life is cramming for tests, writing essays, all-night bridge games, pizzas, slow elevators, coke machines that don't work, noisy neighbors and a blessed haven of sleep at day's end. Residence is sometimes taken for granted, but the experience of living with people which it provides is invaluable.

Cody Hall and St. Michael's Hall are the men's residences on campus. Due to the increasing enrollment at the university, Cody Hall is slated for an expansion program which will consist of the addition of five more floors to the existing five. The ten storey building will then be crowned with a glassed-in ballroom and lounge. When it is completed Cody Hall will provide living facilities for over five hundred men.

One thing we learn in residence is tidiness, eh Grant?

It's mail time.

WOMEN'S RESIDENCE

With the opening of the new addition to Electa Hall, this year, the girls have been able to find more space for their leisure hours as well as maintain their studies.

I'm not really going to try to wash my clothes.

Tres chic!

The girls can entertain their friends in the co-ed lounge.

JAZZ WENT TO WINDSOR

Ooh-pah-de-bop and wooden shoes

The two concerts presented by the University of Windsor Jazz Club this year followed the precedent set by last year's Bob James Trio concert in featuring the new and unusual.

Vocalese, the singing technique originated by be-bopping Globetrotter BABS GONZALES is unfortunately still in the realm of the unusual. Bab's humorous approach and uniquely "expoobident" mannerisms, however, succeeded in entertaining even those who had never heard "Ooh-pah-de-bop". The accompanying Johnny Griffith Trio was more than just a good backdrop for Babs. By its solo performances the trio showed its high calibre as a modern jazz group and the high appeal it holds for a discerning audience.

The newest in modern jazz played by an unusually large aggregation came to campus with the "most exciting new combo in jazz", the Marcus Belgrave Septet. Marcus Belgrave, longtime Ray Charles trumpeter; George Bohanon, "new thing" trombonist of Chico Hamilton Quintet fame; Ronnie Fields, creative soloist on soprano-and tenor sax; Frank Morelli, leading baritone-saxophonist; and the rhythm section consisting of Clarence Beasley, piano; Bob Allen, bass; Ike Daney, drums, convinced the audience that "this could be the start of something great".

Hooten-anny

St. Denis Hall was jammed again, but for a different reason. The cheering was not for our Lancers, but for the groups who strummed and sang at the Music Club's Hootenanny.

A large and enthusiastic pre-Western game crowd applauded U. of W.'s own Cellar Dwellers, and their rendition of "lusty" and hearty folk songs. The main attraction were the Dalton Boys, who added humourous and rousing lyrics to some great songs.

As in the past, Homecoming Weekend provided festivities for all. The events began with "Las Vegas Night" Friday where thousands of dollars exchanged hands. On Saturday, a gala parade proceeded through the streets of downtown Windsor and culminated at one of the favourite haunts the D. H. where cheer and Beer was had by all. In the evening, after the basketball game and crowning of the Queen, a number of dances and parties were held so that homecoming alumni could meet with old friends.

Do you think I should?

Windsor's Sports

Pride comes to the University in many ways, there is an academic pride, and a personal pride in one's alma mater, but down through time the major test is ultimately on the field of combat. So the University brings forth its best, its strongest, its bravest. Crowds gather vehemently holding their heads high for those on the field. And victory brings two things: shining recognition for those who fight and win; and a confirmation and singular pride for those who can only watch.

Athletic Director

DICK MORIARITY

As Athletic Director, Mr. Moriarity is responsible for the planning, organization and administration of the University of Windsor's intramural and intercollegiate athletic programs. Under his direction the athletic facilities for both men and women are constantly being expanded and improved.

Assistant Athletic Director

MRS. WM. THOMSON

A graduate of London's Teachers' College, Mrs. Thomson is one of the most well known coaches and officials of women's sports in Ontario. She was appointed head of women's sports and Assistant Athletic Director in 1961.

Moderator of Athletics

REV. J. HUSSEY, C.S.B.

Father Hussey has long been an influential factor in the development of the university's athletic program. In 1956, when Dick Moriarity was appointed full-time Athletic Director, Father Hussey assumed his present position of Faculty Moderator of Athletics.

Equipment Manager

FRED LUXFORD

Mr. Luxford has been Head Equipment Manager of the university for the past five years. During this time he has been an invaluable addition to the Athletic Staff. His efforts have been especially directed to the development of our hockey program. Freddie is always ready to assist any student in the Athletic phase of his college career.

Interfaculty

CLOSE SEASON IN INTERFACULTY FOOTBALL

This was the second year of interfaculty football at Windsor and in many ways it proved to be the most exciting. The big surprise of the season was the science squad which in previous years had been compared to the Toronto Argonauts. The opposition was never quite able to cope with newcomer Pete Costigan's around-end gallops and a strong offensive line. The final standings saw science all alone in first place sporting a 4-0 record. Engineers ended up in second place with only one loss. Arts I and Arts II took third and fourth spots respectively with 1-2-1 record. The Commerce team never got untracked despite a strong backfield and wound up in last place with an 0-4 record.

The playoffs were equally surprising. Fr. Murray's Junior Artsmen finally stopped Costigan and Company in the semi-finals and Arts II eliminated defending champion Engineers. Arts I and Arts II battled for the championship on a sweltering Saturday in late autumn. Arts I led 1-0 throughout the first three quarters and seemed to have the championship within their grasp. Then as the clock ran out the Senior Artsmen tried for the tying point on a punt. Joe Sheehan of Arts I booted the pigskin out of the end zone into the waiting arms of Jim Placzek who marched right back into the end zone for the winning touchdown. Congratulations are due to all five teams, especially coach Morgan Clark and his Champion Arts II club.

One of the most surprising events of the season was the Interfaculty meet. More than seventy athletes participated and it is hoped even more will take part next year. Arts I "ran" off with the Interfaculty crown.

Soccer

Again this year, soccer was one of the most successful and popular sports on our campus. The league was a close one and all the games hard fought. Credit is due to Colin D'Arcy for the excellent organization soccer enjoyed. Gus Candido and Eddi Regts led the strong Engineer's team to the Interfaculty Championship.

Golf

This was a most successful year for our Intercollegiate Golf Team. The team was made up of the four low scores in the school elimination tournament. The University of Windsor hosted the O.Q.A.A. Tournament which was held in the fall at Beach Grove Golf Course. Harvey "BUTCH" Barsanti took the individual honours with a 74, 77-151. D. J. Egan disqualified himself for a minor and inadvertent infraction of the rules and as a result Windsor automatically dropped to last place in the standings. Had it not been for this bit of bad luck Windsor would likely have won the championship.

JUDO

Like most other University of Windsor teams, the Judo Club is gaining greater respect on the intercollegiate level. This year Ryerson Institute of Technology hosted the Annual University Judo Tournament. Twelve university teams with a total of 160 competitors participated in the events. Windsor placed a very respectable fifth in the team standings due to outstanding performances by blue belts Kerry MacDonald and Rich Phillips; orange belts Mike Gindle and Wayne Craig; and white belts Rainer Anderson and Jack Kehl.

AQUATIC SOCIETY

Although young and inexperienced, Windsor's swimming team has made a fine showing in intercollegiate competition this year. In his first year at Windsor, coach Nike Grabowski has moulded a strong nucleus for next year's club. It is hoped that with better facilities and more recruits, the team will have an even more successful season.

Windsor's Clubs and Organizations

An education is many things. It is textbooks and seminars, blue-books and all-night study sessions, conferences and transcripts. But the cultural, social or political side of an individual's education must find expression. And so it is that many famous orchestras, soloists, lecturers, and actors come often to the threshold of the University, to be greeted by an enthusiastic, appreciative and demanding audience. So it is that the cultural, political and social clubs and organizations of an encouraging campus build and thrive to broaden us all.

President and His Message

Fellow Students:

In the midst of a university community, the most prevalent virtue should be that of personal humility. Favoured though we are to be here, we should draw realization of our own infirmities and shortcomings, through our close proximity to great men and great ideals. Simultaneously we should draw inspiration and ambition to improve ourselves and the world around us.

The social function of a university is to produce original thinkers and nonconformists. It takes but little talent to conform to social dictates. It takes both courage and a sense of purpose to determine to change society constructively.

If the University of Windsor has developed in you a sense of personal humility and a related desire to achieve perfection through social improvement, then it has accomplished its primary end. Let us hope that its success of this year shall be repeated in the years of growth to come.

Sincerely yours,

W. R. White

Cultural Committee

One of the most active and by far one of the most effective committees on campus, the Cultural Committee makes its work evident in the fields of art, films, book discussions and chiefly in its sponsorship and support of the Christian Culture Series. Under the direction of Cultural Chairman, Cathy Comuzzi, and her committee heads, such noteworthy events as the Vienna Choir Boys, the Canadian National Ballet, and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra were made available to the students. Following in tradition this year's committee has done a job of which they can be proud.

W.A.C.

This year, as in former years, the Windsor and resident girls joined together to plan a well balanced schedule of women's activities. The Sadie Hawkins' Dance, the Children's Christmas Party, the Roundabout Formal, and the Grooming Clinic were just a few of the successful undertakings of the council. With representatives from each faculty WAC has contributed much to the united spirit of the University of Windsor.

Arts Council

Since its initiation in 1962, the Arts Council has endeavoured to give the Arts Student a voice in affairs on campus. As Arts Representative, Don Roszman has worked jointly with the Students' Administrative Council and the Arts Council to create better understanding and interest within the entire student body.

To provide Arts students with the opportunity to display their literary talents and keep in contact with the activities of the Arts Council, a monthly Arts letter was published and proven successful.

C.U.S.

An organization serving students, The Canadian Union of Students has expanded immensely in the last few years. It has provided a Life Insurance Plan, available to all Canadian university students. With its objectives of promoting better understanding among Canadian students, instituting a greater degree of co-operation among all student organizations, advancing legitimate student interests, and developing relationships with other national and international student groups, CUS sponsors many activities including the Blood Drive, Student Discount Service, Student Travel Bureau, and their literary publication, Campus Canada, to carry out their programme.

Serving university students from coast to coast, World University Services of Canada is famous for its generous donations to SHARE, and its many seminars held across the continent. It is through WUSC that university students across Canada now have a health plan, and with the week of Treasure Van we were able to see the interest shown in support of other peoples and their cultures.

This year a U. of W. student will travel to Algeria accompanied by other university students, sponsored by WUSC. Certainly it is an organization of great value to all students through its promotion of international relations.

Engineering Society

The Engineering Society was formed in 1957-58. Since then the club has expanded and the engineers now merit one of the most impressive buildings on our campus. Essex College houses the builders of the future, and in the club there is a strong link between industry and the classroom. The Engineers maintain a very high level of scholastic endeavour as well as an aloof air towards the mere Arts, Science or Commerce students, who nevertheless admire their energy and spirit.

Commerce Club

The future financiers (?) of the globe are bred amongst those who hardly recognize them. The business world is often a tough one and the Commerce Club contends to give its members a knowledge of this world through its monthly dinners during which important leaders address them on current topics. An interested executive and an active membership provides for unlimited experiences and opportunities in their chosen field.

Nurses' Club

Accompanying the demand for more hospitals and better health services is the even greater demand to equip these necessities with capable employees. The post-graduate course in nursing is offered to improve nursing education and to give to nurses the status they deserve.

It is only in the last few years that the club has expanded, and upon this expansion is built hopes for the future.

R. C. A. F.

One of the three branches of the Canadian Armed Forces, the Royal Canadian Air Force is well represented at the new University of Windsor.

Meeting every Tuesday evening, this group discusses possibilities for future careers in the armed service. Films and guest lecturers add up to an interesting agenda.

U.N.T.D. and C.O.T.C.

With thoughts and dreams pointing towards the future, the young men of the Army and the Navy look forward to careers in the armed service.

Both groups meet regularly and discuss possibilities for advancement now and for the future, once their education is complete.

Guest speakers are frequent visitors to meetings and lively question and answer periods often follow. These boys of the army and navy enjoy a close fellowship with each other for their destinations are the same — that of the service of their country.

Politics

N.D.P. Club

The New Democratic Party on campus came closer than ever before to winning the election this year. Their popularity has increased not only on our campus but on the nation-wide scale as well. Thanks to the dynamic leadership of Doug Fisher the club has enjoyed increased membership as well as increased popularity. Basing many of their policies on the pros and cons of labour union, this political party looks forward to bigger and better days. Next year the energetic N.D.P.'s. promise an even greater threat to the political battlefield.

Liberals

The most popular political party on campus, the Liberal Club, once again fathered a fine campaign to win the student election. The club tries to keep its members informed on the latest party platforms as well as the political situation from coast to coast through various guest speakers and knowing lecturers. Not only is the Liberal Club a fine political ensemble but its members enjoy a fine social agenda as well. Peter Moran, student Prime Minister and President of the Club, has provided keen opposition for his other contenders, and all deserve a hand of applause for their spirit and sense of fair play throughout the campaign.

Economic-Political Science Club

With the growing interest in student politics it is an inevitable fact that more Canadians take a closer look at the situation surrounding them. It has been recently decided to teach political science prior to university training, and the economic situation can be well learned by simply picking up a newspaper. The Ec - Pol. Sci. Club endeavours to carry knowledge gained in the classroom and to discuss such knowledge at regular meetings in an informal manner.

Progressive Conservatives Club

The recent growth of the Progressive Conservative Club on campus only emphasizes the interest in the economic and political status of nations. A well-informed group, ready to defend their policies, the members of the P.C. Club are enthusiastic politicians of the future. They are kept up-to-date on the policies — both provincial and federal — through frequent meetings, club bulletins, and noted guest speakers.

Lord Acton Society

The Lord Acton Society is the history club on campus. This club is one of the newest at the University of Windsor; it was founded by interested history students only last year. A comparatively small membership does not, however, imply that they are inactive. Members are occupied with lectures, films, and book reviews. The moderator of the Society, Dr. Farrell, helps to keep things interesting with his continual wit and good humor.

The Canadian Affairs Club

With an ambitious scope and a great deal of interest, the Canadian Affairs Club has proved itself one of the best organizations on our campus. Through the untiring efforts of Fr. Boland, C.S.B., and by the co-operation of the members of the club, the interest in world affairs on campus has been heightened. Their varied program was highlighted this year by the now annual Canadian-American Seminar.

The Trident Club

It is only in the most recent years of the university's history that the Ukrainian students on campus have gathered together in common interest. The only ethnic group existing in the university, their activities vary from social to intellectual discussions in their native tongue. It is our hope that the Trident Club continues to grow with the annual increment of the new University of Windsor.

Spanish Club

Combining the willingness to learn and the readiness to try, members of the Spanish Club test their ability at attaining fluency in this romance language. A new club on campus, the Spanish Club has as its goal not only to give expert help to the beginners on the right times to use "estar" and "ser", but also to provide beginners and experts alike with an understanding and love of both the language and of Spain herself. In its endeavours to make the Spanish language and culture an integral part of undergraduate life, president Vince Mancinelli has done his utmost to carry through the aims of his club.

Sociology Club

R. Sinclair, R. Weiler, M. Cillis, Mr. D. Cole, S. Chapman, L. Shery.

Few in number but vast in ideas and projects . . . Field trips to Bowling Green, London's Mental Hospital, and many films and discussions all added up to make a grand total of SUCCESS for the Sociology Club of '64.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Cole sociology students have not been confined to classroom work alone. The club's activities have managed to produce an interested group of young people ready to assist in a social welfare of their communities.

Psychology Club

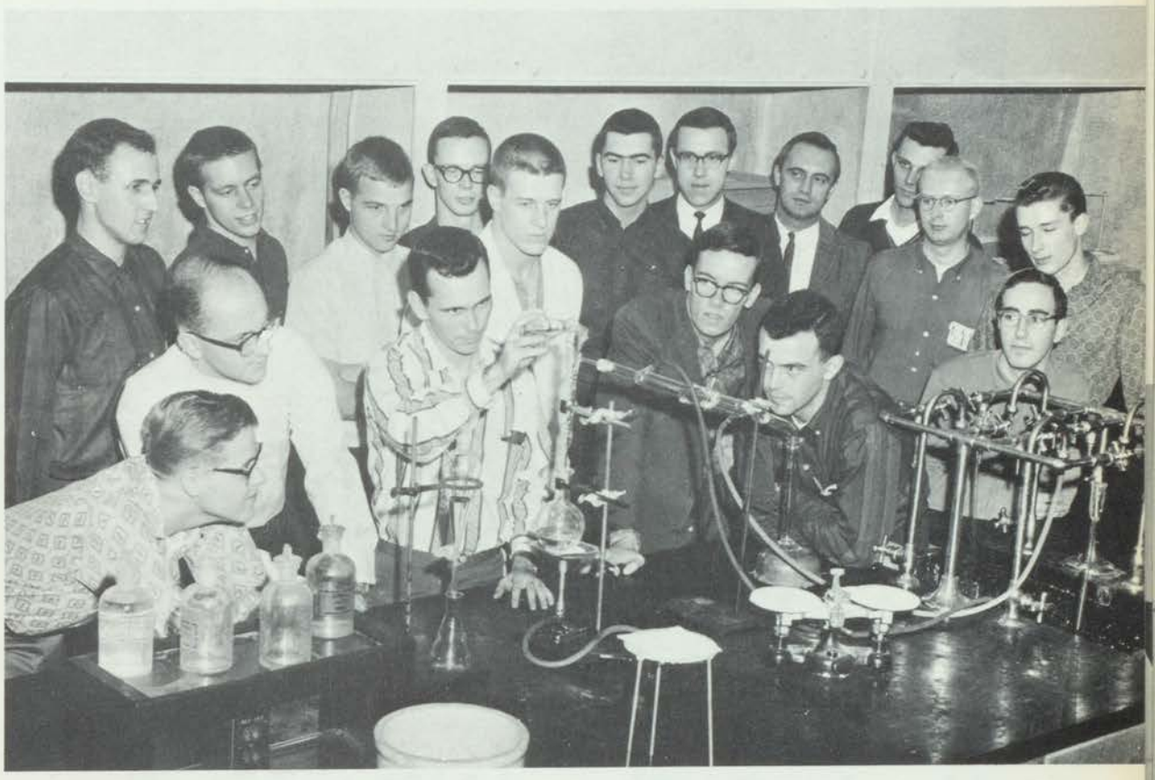

To meet the demands of student interest and the prominent growth in the psychology field as evidenced by the annual increment of enrolments in psychology courses, the need for a club of this nature seemed obvious. In keeping within their limited budget the club planned a program which supplemented the academic knowledge and interest of the graduate, major, and psych 15 students, by providing additional extra-curricular activities related to the field of psychology.

Chemistry Club

The science of Chemistry, in one form or another, is one of the oldest known to man. Modern chemists no longer seek a simple way to make gold. Their research has expanded to extend the limits of man's horizon, to elevate his intellectual capacity, and further to raise his standard of living far beyond what their predecessors hoped to gain from their newly made gold. To emphasize this, and to show its members what remains, to be accomplished, the Chemistry Club has planned a program to supplement academic knowledge and interest by providing many extracurricular events related to the field of Chemistry.

Physics Club

R. Wilson, W. Waymouth, T. Shiner (Pres.), Dr. Hedgecock, J. Lejoic, D. Leach.

Created for furthering the knowledge and experience of students in the practical aspects of Physics, the Physics Club has done much to promote the interests of its members in the many fields open to modern scientists. In this age when our civilization is sustained by the ever-increasing achievements of science, the members of the club fully realize their important role in achieving a strong link between industry and the classroom. Thus, both for enjoyment's sake, and to give its members experience in practical problems, the Physics Club has presented speakers, films, and arranged tours of major industrial plants where the theories of the lab are given concrete form.

Jazz Club

The Jazz Club, in its fourth and most successful year, entertained student members with a variety of concerts both on and off campus this year. An increase in the size of the club has enabled members to participate in more activities than ever before. The Marcus Belgrave Septet, Babs Gonzales, and the Johnny Griffith Trio are just a few of the top names featured in the Jazz Club's entertainment, as it undertook the task of increasing student interest and participation in the realm of music.

The Music Club proved itself active in many social functions on campus again this year. Among the club's choral activities were the Christmas Fantasy, the Spring Concert, and participation in the CBC choral competition. Their agenda also included sponsorship of the Hoot 'n Hop, the Operatic Society, and the Wayne State Glee Club.

Radio Club

Weekly programming and recording are among the performances of the Radio Club. CKLW has allotted one hour a week to the U. of W. Club for programming done by these hard-working students. Interviews, commentaries, and other featured controversies make up the agenda, as they endeavour to keep students well informed on world-wide and local news.

In addition to this, we find the Radio Club performing yet another service to campus activities, in the form of recorded music for all the university dances. A club of long standing, the Radio Club promises to carry on as the voice of the students in future years.

Seated: J. Cook, A. Weber. Standing: Miss E. McLean, T. Smyth (Pres.), J. Tyrrell, K. Moriarity, F. Souchak.

Sodality

The Sodality of Our Lady is active once again this year. Under the capable direction of Fr. Murray, C.S.B., the girls strive for an inner strength whereby they may be an example of all their Christian ideals.

Evening rosary, preparation of the altar, and priest's vestments, comprise the sodalist's duties. Both resident and Windsor students took advantage of a closed retreat at Oxley-House.

Striving first for an inner goodness, a sodalist prays daily for strength, that she may teach and be taught goodness, discipline, and knowledge.

J. Parent, M. Petrasovic, W. Dodd, G. Guerinot, F. Hogan, C. DeCelles, Rev. Weiler C.S.B., J. VanLinden.

Legion of Mary

The Legion of Mary has as its purpose the sanctification of its members and, through their example, the sanctification of others. Under the direction of moderator, Father Weiler, C.S.B., the Legion has been revised this year to better suit the needs of the Catholic students on campus, as they strive to attain a personal and spiritual satisfaction in their everyday lives.

United Church Club

It is a notable fact that people become bound closer together because of their tight religious ties. Members of the United Church Club have accomplished the ideal of many in that they have become a close group, and yet each member remains an individual.

The purpose of the club is to establish and keep this intimate relationship. In a world so filled with other things religion is much too often neglected. The club strives to encourage its members in their beliefs and to strengthen their viewpoints on United Church law and action.

Discipline and Knowledge

Canterbury Club

Open to all Anglican students on campus, the Canterbury Club is small but active. Kept well informed concerning religious laws and teachings of the Anglican ministry, club members are enthusiastic about their faith.

Guest speakers from local parishes are invited to speak at club meetings and lively discussions follow. Always eager to better themselves, the members raised money this year through such ventures as bake sales in residence. Everything that they learn through the club they try to exemplify in their daily lives.

Ski Club

The Ski Club, in its second year of activity, is by far the largest and certainly one of the most active clubs on campus.

Aimed at providing beginners with the opportunity of learning the art of skiing and at the same time faced with the bleak forecast of little snow here in Windsor, the Ski Club this year offers its members ski equipment, transportation, and loads of fun on ski slopes pointing north. The climax of their schedule comes with the annual weekend trip to Collingwood, a finale to a well-rounded and fun-filled timetable.

Bridge Club

Card enthusiasts are readily invited to take part in the activities of the Bridge Club. A club for the simple social pleasure of playing bridge, its members learn the "whats" and "whys" of perhaps the most time-consuming hobby on campus. Each member welcomes a new hand that he may test his skill and know-how.

Seated: M. A. Martin, D. Soules, E. McMullen, D. Rosati. Standing: P. Clark (Pres.), B. Marrynick, B. Lavers, E. Henderson, G. Bahrynowski, B. Johnston.

Debating Society

Few students can afford not to be able to defend something they believe in. The debating society endeavours to give its members several worthy tips on the art of eloquence. Using their intelligence and fighting spirit, the members debate on ambiguous points among themselves and are always willing to accept different approaches to different problems.

L. Parent, M. Petrasovic, M. Ray, B. Wilson, V. VanHooydonk, J. Morand, J. Halfman, J. Kuhl, M. Reynolds (Pres.).

Student Guide

One of the necessities and most useful components of a student's possessions is the Student Guide.

Working quickly and with enthusiasm, a few capable students undertake this immense task of compiling the student directory every year. This year, the Guide was exceptionally well done, with its smart binding and worked cover — an outstanding credit to a job well done.

Drama Club

Under the direction of Mr. Kelly, the Drama Club has once again had a successful theatrical year. Two plays, Ring Round the Moon and Hamlet, were produced much to the enjoyment of Windsor audiences.

Although the players are amateurs, they show a broad professional interest in drama. When a play is to be produced, it is not simply the actors that are important. Scenery, lighting and prop men are also necessary to provide equipment used to complement the actors in their parts. The Drama Club is an example of an all-round effort to produce a genuine interest for all in the world of the theatre.

Mr. Kelly plans the next scene.

M. McConville, M. Ames, J. Meharry, W. Lange, demonstrate their various talents.

Crosswinds

Keeping residence students up to date on the latest news, Crosswinds has set a precedent at the University of Windsor. Never before has there been a newspaper printed exclusively for resident students, and never before has such a newspaper been under the complete control of the students themselves.

Welcoming articles of all varieties, Crosswinds has opened a new field of endeavour for interested and aspiring writers, and added another tradition to our campus in its first years as the University of Windsor.

E. McAuliffe, R. Sperandio, A. Weber, D. Watson, A. Gillis, R. Fischman.

Residence Councils

Representing close to five hundred students on campus, the Residence Councils are an important group. The Men's Residence Council, composed of boys from Cody and St. Michael's Hall, manages to provide all the necessities of residence life — from a clean room once a week to new ironing board covers. And never let it be said that boys in residence become bored, for the M.R.C. provides them with many activities — from entertainment in the movie world to an interhouse basketball league. The Electa Hall Council also manages to give residence girls the same comfortable living in the new and modern addition completed just this year.

Socials and fun-filled get-togethers are not uncommon between residences, and this compatability has been brought about, through the endeavours of both councils.

The Lance

The weekly newspaper of the University of Windsor, the Lance, provides staff, students, and interested bystanders with an opportunity to view campus activities. However, the Lance staff does not limit their copy to student affairs but strives also to keep students well informed and up to date on world affairs and inter-university events.

Both student and professor interviews are not uncommon in the Lance, and letters of criticism as well as commendation are always welcomed by the staff as they try to build up new traditions at this new university.

Ambassador '64

Before a yearbook can be presented to the students, it must be the closest thing to perfection. It is only with hard work, late nights, and much worry that the staff reaches their goal. Between the pages of the Ambassador '64, we have tried to present you with a little bit of yourself. The reward for our work will come in the future when each one opens our book and says, "Isn't it great to look back?" Only then will we feel proud.

It is our hope that the Ambassador '64 will exemplify the pride felt by the students of our new University of Windsor, and that it will stand as a fond remembrance of the former years at Assumption.

WINDSOR'S FACULTY AND UNDERGRADUATES

The University is a melting-pot, a great cauldron of peoples, cultures, attitudes, and concepts. From the far-flung corners of the world come students to piece together bits of the past left by generations gone before in order to make some pattern for tomorrow. It is here that experience and reason take foot-holds in our lives, and here that we broaden our scope for what is to come. This is our legacy; our heritage; this is the University.

WINDSOR'S GRADUATES

First the bewilderment of a freshman, the assurance of a sophomore, the diligence of a junior, and suddenly four years have passed. Four years have disappeared which have seen disappointment, victory, and endless reaction of growth and maturation. Four years have gone that dragged interminably in thought, but fled swiftly in reality. Not all the answers are solved, not all the questions answered. But a new confidence, a mature belief, and pride of accomplishment equip the senior for whatever lies beyond.

Our Departed Chancellor

. . . The Most Reverend John C. Cody, Bishop of London and Chancellor of the University of Windsor.

Assumption University, and now the University of Windsor will gratefully remember his keen interest in our developing university. He was first Chancellor of Assumption University and was unanimously chosen by the Board of Governors to be the first Chancellor of the non-denominational University of Windsor. Not only did he contribute materially to the support of our financial campaigns but he transferred to the Basilian Fathers the title to more than half the land now occupied by the University. Moreover, he, along with the Anglican Bishop of Huron, Bishop George Luxton, D.D., was responsible for the unique affiliation of the Anglican Canterbury College with the Roman Catholic Assumption University in 1957.

Craftsmanship in Construction

Fine buildings reflect the crafts and the skills of the men who build them. That is why you will always find top-notch tradesmen and supervision on Eastern projects.

We specialize in industrial, commercial and institutional construction and have a staff of civil and mechanical engineers to supervise this work. When your building plans are marked "rush with care" consult Eastern. We build throughout Southern Ontario.

IMPACT

Sixty years ago Ford of Canada began building automobiles and trucks.

Since then many hundreds of thousands of high school and university graduates have become Ford owners.

Their steadily-mounting preference for Ford products has contributed significantly to the impact on our national growth of this important Canadian industrial achievement.

During 1964, Ford of Canada is observing its 60th anniversary.

In its first year of existence*
Ford of Canada built 117 automobiles.
In 1964, Ford of Canada will build in excess of 175,000 vehicles.

THE BUGGY MAKERS WHO DIDN'T GIVE UP!

Competition is not an easy way of life. Every so often a business firm is forced to close down because it cannot compete successfully. There are some who say that competition is bad, and that there ought to be a way to give security to all.

Most people, however, do agree that competition keeps prices down and improves quality. But competition does much more for us that that. It is a great creative force — a spur to achievement.

Competition has brought into existence far more businesses and jobs than it has eliminated. For example, it ruined the buggy business but in its place the vast automobile industry — which created hundreds of new jobs for every job that it made obsolete.

Some buggy makers changed over to the automobile business and did better than ever. The real threat of competition is not so much what others do, but what we fail to do. Being a good competitor is the surest way to win security.

MAYOR MICHAEL PATRICK VISITS UNIVERSITY CENTRE

I am very happy to visit with you today in your modern student activities area. The people of the City of Windsor are indeed proud of your work.

I am grateful for the opportunity given me to extend the congratulations and best wishes of people of the City of Windsor to the new University of Windsor.

Windsor and Essex County is indeed fortunate in having educational facilities of such high standards to meet the ever increasing demands for higher education for our boys and girls.

Students of the University are on hand to greet Mayor Patrick. Carol Solomchuck, Shirley Harnadek, Bill McLeod, Carol Andrusky, Jim Sweeny and Barbara McPherson.

MESSAGE

SAINT MARY'S ACADEMY

The Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary and the Students of St. Mary's Academy offer this sincere tribute of esteem and appreciation to the Very Reverend E. C. LeBel, C.S.B., President of the University of Windsor, in recognition of his magnificent contributions to intellectual growth and Christian culture in Windsor, but especially for the support and encouragement given to all the religious and educational activities sponsored by the Academy. May God bless his future years with further rich harvests of apostolic fruitfulness.

GREETINGS FROM

CORPUS CHRISTI HIGH SCHOOL

TO

Reverend E. C. LeBel, C.S.B.

Father LeBel, President of the former Assumption University, was more than an educator. In a time when people of all faiths are conscious of the Ecumenical spirit, it is significant that a man like Father LeBel, because of his deep respect for every person and his recognition of the dignity of man, held the position of influence that was his. People who knew him personally and others who will never meet him are grateful to him for creating the atmosphere necessary for the dialogue of to-day.
